How do we treat textiles?
What importance do they have in our daily lives?
What do they symbolize for us?

In Voices of Textiles, we see snapshot of textiles in everyday contexts.

Jute bags are passed from one hand to the next.

Lifejackets announce a seaside location.

Women attach personal scraps of fabric to a tree dedicated to the goddess.

On a tree in the city, someone has created their own space with clothing and blankets.

A derelict building protected by sheeting becomes a dwelling not just for crows.
